PublicCity PR Named
Detroit Regional Chamber
On the Rise Award Recipient for 2010

Beverly Hills, Mich. — PublicCity PR has been selected by The Detroit Regional Chamber, as a 2010 “On the Rise” recipient, an award which recognizes the growth of small businesses within the Chamber.

The company, one of only four in Metro Detroit to be recognized, won the Revenue Growth award – for companies that have experienced major increase in revenue growth within the past year.

“I am very honored and humbled to be one of the four “On the Rise” recipients this year,” said Jason Brown, Principal and Founder of PublicCity PR. “Despite Michigan’s challenging economic state, we have had tremendous growth and thank you to the Chamber for recognizing our development and results.”

For winning the award, the company will receive recognition from the Chamber throughout the year, including: A membership level upgrade for one year to the Detroit Regional Chamber, an article profiling PublicCity PR in the Detroiter and e-Detroiter and a plaque to showcase the achievement.

Brown founded PublicCity PR in September, 2008. He launched the company so small-to-medium sized businesses would have an alternative solution for their public relations needs by providing its clients the personal attention they require, the results they deserve and at a budget they can afford.
